Introduction to Acts

Volume 2 in “a history of Christian beginnings”

Introduction to Acts

1. What do you already know about the book of Acts?
2. Who wrote Acts?
3. Why is it called Acts?
4. When was Acts written?
5. Why was Acts written?
6. What genre is Acts?
7. Theological themes in Acts
8. An overview of our journey through Acts

Inasmuch as many have undertaken to compile a narrative of the things that have been accomplished among us, just as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word have delivered them to us, it seemed good to me also, having followed all things closely for some time past, to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus, that you may have certainty concerning the things you have been taught.

Luke 1:1-4

The “we” passages in Acts

16:8-17 - with Paul from Troas to Philippi, and for at least a little while in Philippi

20:5-15 - joined Paul again in Philippi, accompanied him to Miletus

21:1-18 - with Paul from Miletus to Jerusalem

27:1-28:16 - with Paul on the voyage to Rome

Aristarchus my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark the cousin of Barnabas (concerning whom you have received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him), and Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only men of the circumcision among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me.

Colossians 4:10-11

Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, greets you, always struggling on your behalf in his prayers, that you may stand mature and fully assured in all the will of God. For I bear him witness that he has worked hard for you and for those in Laodicea and in Hierapolis. Luke the beloved physician greets you, as does Demas.

Colossians 4:12-14
